

A vibrant bouquet of red tulips is the central focus, set against a solid light blue background. The tulips are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others just beginning to unfurl. Their green stems and leaves are visible at the base. In the top left corner, there is a white rectangular area with a black grid pattern, resembling a calendar or a table.